How to Make Learning a Fun and Successful Experience

With Terry Brown

Come learn her 'Secrets to Success' to teaching Reading, Writing and Math to those with Unique Learning Needs

Terry Brown, affectionately known as “Mrs. Brown” by the children she works with, has developed an innovative and successful educational program for individuals with Down syndrome.

Mrs. Brown’s approach is unique in that she addresses the needs of the whole child; sensitive to their individuality while focusing on their strengths and capabilities.

These methods work well for all children that struggle with learning.

Terry was recognized as Down Syndrome Association of Orange County’s 2001 educator of the year and she is known by many for her unique educational skills.

Educators of all ranks from Southern California have visited her program and have implemented parts of it within their own classrooms boasting successful results.

Terry’s methods and curriculum have been the spring board for hundreds of children with Down syndrome to enter the wonderful world of reading.

To see some of these delightful learners please visit her website at: www.sohappytolearn.com
